ALLIED ENERGY PLC TO SPONSOR AFRICAN CANCER CARE INC'S "RUN FOR LIFE, PREVENT CANCER, STOP CANCER DEATH" WALK-A-THON ON SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11th IN ABUJA, NIGERIAWalk-A-Thon kick offs a 10-day Medical Mission to Raise Awareness of Cancer in Nigeria

LAGOS –Allied Energy Plc. is a proud corporate sponsor of the Saturday, October 11, 2008, African Cancer Care Inc.'s "Run for Life, Prevent Cancer, Stop Cancer Death" Walk-A-Thon in Abuja, Nigeria. At 8 am prompt, hundreds of walkers are expected to join organization representatives to raise awareness for the early detection of cancer, cancer prevention and treatment. October is Cancer Awareness Month in Nigeria.

In addition, Her Excellency Hajija Turai Yar'Adua, the First Lady of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, has been invited to open the African Cancer Care Inc's Walk-A-Thon. The brief program will feature the First Lady, Dr. Kase Lawal, Chairman of Allied Energy Plc., and several distinguished representatives from the federal and state government health ministries.

"Allied Energy Plc. is committed through its corporate philanthropy to empower Nigerians. By supporting African Cancer Care Inc.'s medical mission to Nigeria, we are sponsoring medical treatment, personnel and resources that will assist Nigerian men, women and children in ultimately living better, healthier and hopefully, cancer-free lives," Dr. Kase Lawal, Chairman of Allied Energy Plc., said. Dr. Lawal commented, "Equally as important, this team of doctors, nurses and medical assistants will provide the latest treatment techniques in "train-the-trainer" seminars to Nigerian medical personnel."

Mrs. Eucharia Iwuanyanwu, President and Founder of African Cancer Care Inc., said, "We are pleased that Allied Energy Plc. has joined us in partnership to provide sponsorship of this critical medical mission. Cancer is one of the leading causes of death in Nigeria and it is vitally important that we continue to work to increase the awareness for early detection of cancer and cancer treatment."

The "Run for Life, Prevent Cancer, and Stop Cancer Death" Walk-A-Thon kick offs the African Cancer Care Inc.'s October 14 -24, 2008, medical mission in Nigeria. The medical team will travel to Zaria and Cross River States to provide free medical screenings, treatments and surgery for Nigerians. African Cancer Care Inc. was founded in Houston, Texas by Mrs. Eucharia Iwuanyanwu, an Oncology doctor at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, one of the largest medical centers in the world.

Headquartered in Nigeria, Allied Energy Plc. is an upstream oil and gas production company that explores for and develops oil projects, principally in the highly prospective areas of deepwater offshore Nigeria. Allied was the first indigenous oil and gas company to hold a Nigerian deepwater license as an operator, beginning in 1992r, and continues its pioneering legacy by becoming the first energy company to seek a public listing on the Nigerian Stock Exchange.

Allied Energy Plc. is a member of the CAMAC Group of Companies, a global energy service corporation headquartered in Houston, Texas USA with principal interests in the exploration, production, and storage of crude oil and natural gas; the physical trading of crude oil, electric power and refined products; and in transportation services.
